

Choose the Light

Words and Music: Thomas Bleyel

*Come and listen to your heart, my friend.
Choose the light.
Feel the longing in your heart, dear friend.
You know what's right.*

You know the things which went wrong in your life.
Name them for yourself.
And you know how good it feels to tell them
to someone who really cares.

Take a look at this awful scene again:
Jesus hung on the cross.
And in the moment when he died there,
the devil knew that he had lost.

God had done everything he could
that we can come back to him.
Now he's waiting for an answer
from you, my friend.

Choose the light!
Choose what's right!
Choose the light, my friend!

Come and listen to your heart, my friend.
Choose the light.
Feel the longing in your heart, dear friend,
and do what's right.
