

He's alive

Words and Music: Thomas Bleyel
27.3.2005. (Ostersonntag)

*He's alive, He's alive,
Jesus has risen.
He's alive, He's alive,
and I'm forgiven.
He's alive, He's alive,
the sting of death is broken.
He's alive, He's alive,
Jesus is alive.*

When Adam failed the sting of death came into the world.
God closed the gates to paradies.
From that day the devil crawled over the earth hoping to ruin each human life.
But God, the father, He himself has made the plan to send His son on the earth.
Born as a baby, He lived a life of man,
died on a cross for all our sins.

When Jesus Christ, God's own son, entered the world,
only a few had seen this sign.
But when He started to fullfill His father's plan thousands of people they came by.
When He preached, His words were loud and clear,
and when He spoke, He spoke the truth.
But Pharisees, they hated what He said,
so they desided 'He must die'.
